Land reform (also agrarian reform, though that can have a broader meaning) involves the changing of laws, regulations or customs regarding land ownership. Land reform may consist of a government-initiated or government-backed property redistribution, generally of agricultural land. Land reform can, therefore, refer to transfer of ownership from the more powerful to the less powerful, such as ...

Undoubtedly, Zimbabwe's fast tracked Land Reform Program left a huge trail of disaster on the country's food security status, output, land tenure models, investment levels and value added exports from the sector. It also altered the country's industrial model with a number of agro processors going out of business. However it's now 20 years after the land reform program and production ...

Rural residential land is the main space of a farmer's life, rural culture, and social relations. Prior research of rural residential land has focused more on its evolution in plain and traditional agricultural areas. Yet, there is no clear picture of rural residential land expansion, especially in ecologically fragile areas. This study analyzed the characteristics of rural residential land ...
