According to the toro site, it is a 1989 model with a 20hp onan, so that helps when looking for manuals and parts. It was probably one of the last garden tractors uilt by Wheel Horse or one of the first built by Toro. Since I found it on the Toro site, might be a Toro, not sure when the changeover happened. Thanks for the info.

This Wheel Horse is way different than the older models. Soon after the merger with Toro they changed to the vertical shaft engines with electric PTOs. Give me one of the 312-8 or 314-8 or a 520 models any day. They had heavier frames, horizontal shaft engines, and a simple PTO clutch. This model in new condition won't outlast one of the older models that's been used for 10 years already.

As with every modern engine, the oil in your Toro Wheel Horse lawn tractor should be changed regularly. You should also change the engine oil filter at the same time. Toro recommends changing the oil and the oil filter after the first 24 hours of operation and every 100 hours thereafter. This is a job you can do yourself with little trouble and easily save yourself the hassle and expense of a ...
